Integral Ecology

What might we learn by using the lens of “integral ecology,” articulated by Pope Francis, to take a new look at who we are and who we are called to be as humans? What transpires when we interface the “powers of the universe,” as articulated by Brian Swimme, with the four basic themes of Christian anthropology—sin, grace, creation, and God?

What are the cosmos, Earth, current events, and Pope Francis’ encyclical Laudato Si’ calling us to become? Are the traditional understandings of Christian anthropology sufficient to keep even well-intended people (like ourselves) from contributing to the catastrophic decline of our planet? These and other questions will be explored during this weekend retreat.

Friday, May 19 to Sunday, May 21, 2017

The retreat begins at 6:30pm and concludes with the noon meal on Sunday.

Cost of $225 includes $50 non-refundable deposit, overnight accommodations, and meals.
